

IBS Risk Management Services Group employs a team of engineers, including one expatriate technical advisor, all domiciled in Jakarta and qualified in the disciplines of mechanical and chemical engineering.

On a daily basis we help business managers develop risk management programs which act as a practical yet fundamental element of their risk protection strategy, drawing on field experience gained by our engineers over many years.

Our engineers and surveyors work closely with IBS Risk Services personnel, conducting comprehensive site risk surveys to ensure that an accurate risk profile of our clients' business and exposures are communicated directly to the insurance underwriting market. This facilitates a more practical approach by insurers and enables our service teams to obtain the most competitive rating of the risk available from the market.

In addition, IBS Risk Management Services Group is amongst the foremost claims consultancy providers in Indonesia, and specializes in assisting our clients to compile, prepare, submit and negotiate insurance claims with their respective insurers, loss adjusters and surveyors. We provide these services to IBS Group clients and non-Group customers alike, and are recognized as the leading expert in this field within Indonesia today.
